Xshow the development of the sector on the basis of the then prime minister, increase the level of living of the population, that is, the labor of any society, which is one of the most invaluable resources, efficient use of resources drew attention to the issue, in the future of this sector in gdp and the share increase further scientific conclusions and suggestions are given. Abstrakt issued the research process thinking, economic-statistical analysis led to the wide use of methods such as.

Above cited one of the definitions of pay, if we look to the period of development in the history of mankind servicing, service the society, the emergence of human daily activities after the start of continuous improvement to ensure the constant improvement of it in action for creativity and satisfaction of all needs on the same basis to achieve the goal of using a come in. Therefore, the service is also being considered as a philosophical category that while trying to process that its process know, it is not simple, but the development of society, people, prosperity will find directed that action should look. Considering that whom finds doing so, we give the following definition should be found. Service – every layer of this population (when you feel the need) the activity that is aimed at meeting the material and spiritual needs should be viewable¹.

Almost all needed for human consumption in favor of dating because of the work of man and his mind-is created by means of insight. Those who are employed in the economy of the activities, goals and aspirations only in the case of the interests of society, - every able-bodied man active in the social production of results, and participate wholeheartedly etgandagina, the society has put in front of any complex tasks can be solved. “Higher education to increase the level of coverage with international standards, on the basis of highly qualified, creative and systematic thinking, personnel who can make independent decisions, and to show their intellectual abilities to create the conditions necessary for the formation and perfect as a spiritual entity, - note that thedi Sh.M.Assignthis it is the duty of all of us, who is holy”². Therefore, the devotion of the labor population in the country is the main factor of development of active.

Naturally, the new economic order is not completely free from defects defects and also the specific economic system based on market relations. In this regard, the scientific visions in the field of economics has been recognized widely in the literature. To give their details, research subject proceeding from the new economic system for all members of society, the activities of a certain risk of his life and work stability of the throne, held the factors that brought both of unemployment noted in particular that appropriate. To improve the living standards of the population of the service sector held the role. This area, especially young people looking for work for the first time, work experience enough, convenient location for getting to the layers of the population who have high skills. In the field of production employed in the service of those who remain unemployed for various reasons, exactly the fact that we have the opportunity to be useful in the field of unemployment daily, addressing the practical problem to be taken into account, as well as a productive use should be exactly the same opportunity.

The development of the service sector in the present stage of development of uzbekistan on the basis of population increase employment, income from employment in various industries and sectors of the economy, the main source of income of the population and its removable living form to convert the level of the key factors to develop the capacity required. Of the most pressing issues of the country and very important work with the disabled population to work at the present stage of development the need to ensure the object is saved with the imbalance between supply and demand in the labor market is determined.

- Every able-bodied man in the social production of various active participation in the creation of a district who has secured the blessings dating full, the creation of effective mechanisms of increasing the activity of the population, economic development, efficient use of them to face the challenges of the development of society who only practical in addressing his own people, to live a life of prosperity will achieve.

Achieved success in recent years being given the opportunity to strengthen the social dimensions of economic reform, improve the level of living of the man, the work that needed to provide them with the layers of the population, especially since the state was founded needing to show the material support necessary to reduce the number of measures that are looking to find requires. Especially, the direction of their social service-sector economy showing positive effects in the country, socially oriented market economy, the key will go into the form factor.

The changes that are happening in the social and economic life of the society of consumption through the ever changing composition, which gradually improved the material in favour of the consumption of dating maksimallashuvi be the person types required to increase the consumption of ground has created. The structure of the system consumption is found in a completely different society, its social structure, intellectual and cultural consumption is getting increasingly sore the importance of a lifestyle facilitate the households in and out of time-saving, reading, vacation, health, sports, travel and etc high quality of products and services for even more demand is increasing, that is, to increase the quality of consumption and lifestyle of the people in support, allowing the system has undergone many changes.

The action of the public sector development strategy of the priority areas ng, sanoatni, and implied the development of agricultural services.

Of the republic of uzbekistan the long-term socio-economic policy and its main goal – to reduce social inequality and the level of living of the whole population of a continuous bear.

Market relations have found the decision to go, as it is known to cause according to this plan are the economy will not solve problems, consequently, the rational resources of foy'stoo uzil measures dalana has found their own solution to a problem. Also the most of any society is invaluable resources – labor resources is no exception. The efficient use of these resources , the number of those who are employed in the manufacture of the material dramatically kisqarishiga to expand the ranks of the unemployed and thus taking the inevitable coming. Their effective market mechanisms and make it available to work due to the relative population chiqaritshda material kisqarishi caused by unemployment problem arising in a different area, and for the development of the network is the solution. Socially oriented market economy in the conditions of such intangible all areas of the field, in particular, to the population of free and paid services network (supply social, social insurance, trade, catering, tourism, health, transport, communication and others) consists of a set of. The countries of the world, especially undeveloped western countries, also the experience of the SA economy, the service sector of the society social and economic role in the life and suggest that the place should be high. The human potential is high in countries where 70 percent of the work force employed in service industries. Present day Uzbekistan in those who are employed in the service sector, nearly half of all of the work force, i.e. surged 49.6 percent.

To investigate the effects of the living conditions of the population of the service sector as a result of the proposals has developed and how it has come to the conclusion.

First of all, the "service" economic terms definition look different among scientists, considering the theoretical aspects of research in the case of this concept, its definition has been improved and would recommend express follows: service – every layer of this population (when you feel the need) the activity that is aimed at meeting the material and spiritual needs should be viewable.

Secondly, this stone (in the context of pandimiya) young people looking for work for the first time, work experience enough, convenient location for getting to the layers of the population who have high skills. In the field of production employed in the service of those who remain unemployed for various reasons, exactly the fact that we have the opportunity to be useful in the field of unemployment daily, addressing the practical problem to be taken into account, as well as a productive use can be exactly the same opportunity.

Third, the structure of the system consumption is found in a completely different society, its social structure, intellectual and cultural consumption is getting increasingly sore the importance of a lifestyle facilitate the households in and out of time-saving, reading, vacation, health, sports, travel and etc high quality of products and services for even more demand is increasing, that is, to increase the quality of consumption and lifestyle of the people in support, allowing the system has undergone many changes.

Fourth, human potential high level in countries with 80 percent of the work force employed in service industries. Present day Uzbekistan in service sector, those who are employed work force of 50, was 6 percent.

Such a conclusion from the analysis above information come on makesh can needless, not only through the development of the service sector of the country's socio-economic development, but also improve the living conditions of the population of each division will lead to.
